DAILY THOUGHT.

"The chief wisdom of an individual or of a community consists in knowing what portions of the past to retain and what to cast away."

BRYAN STILL ASPIRES.

(Globe Democrat.)

It is evident that William J. Bryan will not give up the leadership in his party without a struggle. He wants to have a voice in the selection of the head of the congressional campaign committee of his party, and there is a chance that he will have some influence in this direction. His purpose is to shut out from that post every Democrat who was against the Chicago and Kansas City platforms, or whose position in regard to them was in any sort of doubt. This, of course, would not only exclude the Cleveland men, but it would turn down every body of the Hill stripe who made a pretense of supporting the Bryan ticket, but who secretly rejoiced at its defeat.

Mr. Bryan is wise in one particular. He sees the importance of the congressional campaign of 1902, and he attempts to put his party in the best possible shape to wage a strong fight. The result of the election next November will furnish a reliable indication of the direction and the strength of the partisan currents. It is evident that the Democrats intend to make a serious struggle for the possession of the House of Representatives which is to be chosen this year. All this is just what would be expected of a party which has any semblance of sanity among its leaders. The canvass of 1902 will be a decidedly important affair.

Of course, Mr. Bryan's continued prominence in his party carries with it a portent of disaster. While he is at the front, or near it, there can be no approach to the Democratic harmony which has to come before that party will have any hope of success in a congressional or a presidential canvass. There is a broad gulf between the Cleveland and the Bryan sections of the Democracy, and the gulf is not going to narrow so long as Bryan retains his hold on any large section of his party. It is entirely certain that he retains this hold still. The chances are that he will have it throughout the approaching canvass. There is a possibility that he will retain it through the presidential campaign of 1904. Bryan's vitality and enthusiasm in the midst of calamities is a strange manifestation, but it undoubtedly gives a special interest to the politics of the day.

Kubelik, the boy violinist, and Paducawski, the pianist, have been creating great amusement in the musical world. It seems there is no lack of professional jealousy even among the greatest musicians, and some envious players started the report that Kubelik was paid only a paltry $200 a night, while, in the eyes of such high-priced musicians, reduces one to the class of a "cheap man." Kubelik resented the insult by coming out in a published statement declaring that he received $11,000 for four concerts at Chicago, and $100,000 for the sixty-four concerts he has given in America. Interest then began to wane, but his next excitement was a Milwaukee discomfiture on Paderewski's program.

ANK en, donning coat and hat, started to leave, although the court was hot half over. The only thing that mollified him was a promise to put his name on Kubelik's program in still larger letters. Verily, all the lunatics are not in the asylum.

Gerónimo, the Apache chief who has been in captivity for the past fourteen years, wants to be free. He has petitioned the government to release him, and as he is eighty years old his wish may be gratified. It is hoped he will not be so rash, if he gets loose, as to start some of his old tricks, and flaunt the insolent sentimentality flinging fits over his "struggle for liberty and independence," as they are doing in the case of the Philippines and Hawaii. All that has to be done nowadays to arouse a certain class of people is to have a few outlaws rebel against their government, say they are fighting to be free, and use the most cowardly and bloodthirsty methods of warfare. Then mass meetings will indorse them, Democratic congressmen will intro-

sion often ho

position in the weak children.

The list of that chapter usually reads like this—child weak, pale, thin, no appetite, frail, weak, left over from grippe or other disease. Began small doses Scott's Emulsion three times a day after meals. No apparent change first week. Then appetite improved, then strength increased, then child more lively, slept better, a decided gain in weight, better color in the face."

And so it goes till the child is reported well and strong.

Sounds simple enough and it is simple—Scott's Emulsion is just what the weak child needs.

duces resolutions about them, and Bo-sting will start an aid society.

The city council has appointed a committee to confer with the Illinois Central officials relative to the river front property. The city desires to lease it for ninety-nine years, or buy it. The time that will be consumed in finding out what the railroad company thinks about it will be wasted.

About three years ago Former Mayor

Lang agitated the matter of condemning and buying the ground, and the railroad company through its officials informed him that it would neither sell, lease nor give away the property, as it intended in time, as the opportunity presented itself, to build up the property with buildings that would contribute to its earnings. In other words, the railroad company has held the property for its own use, and intends to continue to do so. It is looking out for its own interests, and it is foolish to expect it to give the city the use of valuable property it needs itself.

The Boer war has cost the English over a billion dollars, and it isn't over yet. The Boers are hard to whip, because they have a way of fighting peculiar to themselves. In the last battle, in which General Metthens was captured, they were dressed in uniforms similar to those of the British, and even went so far as to wear badges similar to those of the English. As a result, when they took the British by surprise the latter were unable to distinguish them from their own men. This is equally as unique and enterprising as killing

English prisoners of war or shooting into hospital corps wagons.

A bill that is destined to cut considerable of a figure in pension legislation will soon become a law, and promises relief from the imposition of pension claim agents, as it prescribes a severe penalty for attorneys, claim agents or other persons to receive com-ensation for services rendered in securing the passage of private pension bills in congress. Congressmen allege that while many of the bills present just claims, many others are the result of imposition on claimants who are induced to pay money for the introduction of bills which stand no chance of passage.

Olivera has announced that he is the head of the rebel forces in the Philippines now—but he didn't want to do it. None of them want to mix up in the insurrection but they are induced to do it by selfish and treacherous people, and the spark of rebellion is kept alive by some of the symstart a museum and star the man who claimed in the police court yesterday that he is sixty years old, lives in Mayfield and had never been drunk before.

The people of Germany are all very anxious to see how Prince Henry looks since his tour of America. It is hoped that the strenuous life here did not whiten his hair.

President N. W. Utley of the Kentucky state senate, says he will retire to private life when his senatorial term expires. The people are doubtless willing for them all to retire.

If the Louisville Times had printed Ed Leigh's picture a little sooner the legislature might have passed that bill raising his salary.

It has been discovered that there are microbes in Limburger cheese. It was suspected all along that something was wrong.

The most momentous question now before the public is which of the big cities will get the Fitzsimmons-Jeffries fight.

IN THE CITY COUNCIL.

Tax Collector Kraus Granted a Qui-etus—The Wharf Question.

The City Will Not Change Its Library

Site—Several New Ordinances

Were Passed

MUCH BUSINESS WAS TRANSACTED.

The city council met in regular session last night with all members present.

The minutes of the last regular and called meetings were read and adopted.

Chairman Fowler of the finance committee, presented the regular city bills which were allowed. Several other small bills for various amounts to the Palmer and Wilkerson livery company and also for the drawing of a city map, were referred. Sixty-three dollars was received from Contractor Terrell for dirt taken from a street.

The report of the tax collector,

William Kraus, showing a total collection of $109,151.54 out of $115,- 557.05, for the year 1901 was referred, and the collector was granted a quittance.

Councilman Fowler in presenting the report stated that this was the best collection ever shown and that it showed 19-20 of the taxes assessed.

Treasurer C. E. Richardson's quarterly report was filed. It shows there were $15,955.33 on hand December 1, 1901; $35,606.55 collected since then; $40,134.43 paid out on orders and $295 upon bonds interests. It was received and filed.

Chairman Reed, of the ordinance committee, presented an ordinance asking that the privilege be given the Illinois Central to place in a switch at the Armour building on First street, which was given its second reading.

The amended huckster ordinance, requiring all hucksters peddling wares from house to house and not having raised or manufactured the wares themselves, to pay a license of $2 per day, was given its second reading.

The ordinance leasing a small strip of city property to the Armour company at its building on First and Broadway, was amended by striking out the preamble and then given its first reading.

Chairman Johnson, of the license committee, recommended the transfer of the liquor license of Parker and Davis to the latter.

Chairman Jackson, of the cemetary committee, reported the sale of a lot in Oak Grove to Cliff Hestebach for $30, which was ratified.

Councilman Potter stated that the Star Laundry took, in the rear of the building, leaked and kept the fire engine station partially under water.

The floor is always damp, he said, and he wanted the matter attended to as he thought the health of the firemen would be endangered if the matter was permitted to go unnoticed.

The laundry will be notified and ordered to remedy the defect.

Thos. Stablesfield asked permission to place a boothlike stand near the McPherson drug store, on Fourth street, and also to run in connection with the stand an information bureau.

He was refused permission.

Jim Balger was granted the privilege to remove a house across Elizabeth street if he would repair the damage done the street and other city property.

The $25 a month for keeping a horse was allowed Street Inspector

Eaker.

In the matter of the city carrying a $5,000 insurance policy on account of the electric wires the committee, to which it was referred, reported unfavorably and the motion to carry the policy was lost.

The motion to furnish Night Licen-sement Moore a horse and buggy, by motion of the committee, which reported unfavorably, was lost.

Councilman Jackson reported that it would require about 5500 feet of 4-inch tiling and 200 feet of 8-inch tiling to repair Oak Grove and hills will be called for immediately.

Councilman Taylor wanted the city to secure a lease or to condemn the property from the Armour building, on First street, to the Paducah Mill and Elevator company building. There Never were comedy and tragedy more deftly mingled than in Clyde Fitch's Western drama, "The Cowboy and the Lady." The wit and humor of the earlier scenes give way to a series of startling dramatic climaxes later on in the play, and some of the most thrilling moments come in the last act, where the hero is being tried for a murder which he did not commit, and which he has taken on himself, believing that the woman he loves is guilty, whereas he learns later that she is entirely innocent. This excellent play comes to The Kentucky tonight, with S. Miller Kent in the leading role.

Los Angeles Grows Fast.
The American city which is showing the most rapid gain in population is Los Angeles, Cal. This early California town, settled by the Spaniards in 1781, and a populous place before the discovery of gold, gained 250 per cent in population between 1890 and 1900, and 100 per cent between 1890 and 1900.

It will be our pleasure on Friday and Saturday, our millinery opening days, to show you the handsomest millinery department in Paducah, full of importations.

An Adaptable Celestial.
Yu Keng, the Chinese ambassador at Paris, is quite an adaptable Celestial. His wife is an only half Chinese, having had an American father. His children speak perfect English, and the family takes, in Western style, to excursions, amateur photography, private theatricals and other fads.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Having been granted by the City of Paducah a franchise to erect and operate a Telephone system, we desire to say that we have made all necessary arrangements for immediate work of construction, and it is our desire to have the public lend us their support. Under the franchise we are compelled to establish and maintain and it is our purpose to comply strictly with the franchise. We expect our system to speak for itself and only ask the citizens to give us permission to prove that it is all we claim for it by allowing us to put in telephones at their places of business or residence on THIRTY DAYS' FREE TRIAL. Our solicitors are now in the field and we ask for their consideration of our claims. Should we not comply strictly with our agreement you will not be under any obligations to give us your patronage.

Any further information will be cheerfully given on application. Trusting to have your good will and support. We beg to remain, your obedient servant,

CONFEDERATE REUNION

DALLAS, TEXAS.

Owing to the great amount of interest being manifested in the coming reunion at Dallas next April the passenger department of the Illinois Central railroad has arranged to run special trains through to Dallas via Jackson, Miss., Vicksburg and Shreveport without change, allowing the Old Veterans an opportunity to stop over at Vicksburg and view the historic battlefields on which doubtless many of them faced the enemy in one of the fiercest conflicts now recorded in history.

The rate from all stations will be one cent per mile each way, and tickets will be on sale April 19, 20 and 21. For further particulars call on or address J. T. DONOVAN, Agent, Paducah, Ky.

On account of the above occasion the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway is now selling excursion tickets to Charleston at very low rates. Apply to N. C. and St. I ticket agents for full information.

Abolish Jackson City.
The famous suburb which served as an outlet of the tough element of Washington is about to be abolished. It is just across the Long Bridge in Virginia and out of the jurisdiction of the federal government. All efforts to suppress it have been in vain, and it has been the nightly scene of unrestrained lawlessness, disorder and crime. The Pennsylvania Railroad company has bought up the land on which the vicious resorts of Jackson City stand, and these places will be torn down to make room for the new bridge across the river. When the owners found that there was a demand for their property they advanced the price, and for some of these resorts the Pennsylvania Railroad paid enormous sums. The company intends to wipe out Jackson City.—Detroit Free Press.
